Recommendations

Lighting

While the proposed lighting appears to be full cut-off, the lighting cut sheets suggest that it will utilize either metal halide or high pressure sodium luminaires.

Required Modification

If non- Light Emitting Diode (LED) lamps are proposed, the applicant should be required to provide reasons why they were not chosen. LED luminaires produce a more natural light (true color) as opposed to the yellowish-light of either high or low pressure sodium. Studies have shown that lower light levels are needed for this type of light than the yellowish light produced by HPS lamps. The LED fixtures are also more energy efficient, have a longer lamp life, and can be teamed with solar to add to project sustainability when compared to metal halide.
